Trainee Roller Sports Coach

Role description and training pathway

Turn your passion for skating into a career in sport. Join RollaDome and learn how to help children and young people build confidence through safe, inclusive roller sports.

The opportunity

Location: Schools, clubs and community venues across London, with delivery locations agreed before appointment.
Support: Supervised practice with RollaDome's designated coaching lead.
Work pattern: Regular weekly paid coaching work is the aim. The agreed hours, locations and contract will reflect confirmed bookings and funding.

Living Wage pay

We pay at least the applicable real Living Wage, including the London Living Wage for work in London. Agreed working time includes preparation, lesson planning, setup and pack-down, logistics, customer service and approved marketing work. Your rate, hours and paid training arrangements will be set out in writing before you accept.

Training and progression

Our intended pathway combines a full sports coaching qualification, training in the developing RRSAA programme, supervised delivery, feedback and support. The qualification title, awarding body or provider, duration, entry requirements, funding and any learner costs will be confirmed before enrolment. Any apprenticeship route will be advertised only once its arrangements are confirmed.

Who should apply

We welcome young people starting a career in sport, people not currently in education, employment or training, career changers and returners. Previous coaching experience is not essential. Bring enthusiasm, reliability, willingness to learn and a positive approach to working with children. Your skating ability and training needs will be assessed as part of the recruitment process.

What you will learn and do

Coaching and inclusion

Support safe, enjoyable sessions; demonstrate skills within your competence; encourage beginners and adapt activities for different needs under guidance.

Lesson planning and schemes of work

Prepare learning goals, lesson plans and schemes of work using approved RollaDome resources. Review what participants achieved and use feedback to improve the next session.

Scheduling and logistics

Help prepare timetables, registers and session checklists. Organise equipment and skate sizes, check protective gear, and support venue setup and pack-down.

Customer service

Welcome participants and families, answer routine enquiries and communicate with schools and clubs through approved channels. Escalate concerns to the appropriate lead.

Marketing and PR

Support approved content, events and community outreach. Follow RollaDome guidance on branding, photographs, participant consent and communications.

Safeguarding and teamwork

Follow safeguarding, health and safety, confidentiality and reporting procedures. Contribute to risk assessments, keep accurate records and take part in supervision.

Recruitment and support

Complete the online form; a CV is not required at this stage. We will review your motivation, availability and support needs, then discuss suitable opportunities and practical assessment. Work with children is subject to relevant references, safeguarding training and appropriate checks. Independent coaching begins only after competence and approval are confirmed.

Need help applying or an adjustment? Email hr@rolladome.org.uk. We can arrange a private conversation. Do not send identity documents or medical information with your initial application.
